

Professors Go To Take Part In Coast Meet

Pardoe and Morley Leave For Meeting Of Speech Teachers

Leaving yesterday evening to take part in the convention of the Western Association of Speech, Professor T. Earl Pardoe and Alanzo Morley went to Pasadena, Cal., where the sessions will be held in the Community Playhouse. The convention, which takes place November 26, 27 and 28, will be attended by teachers of speech from eleven western states.

Professor Pardoe will read his paper on "Problems in Voice Research" and Professor Morley will preside over the sessions of Speech Instruction.

The main paper of the convention will be "Conditions of the Contemporary Theatre" by Clarence Brown. Mr. Brown is the director of the Pasadena Community Playhouse.

Bernice Carter and Eugene G. Bird, former graduates of the Speech department will also be in attendance.

Weber Hears Harris Speak

President Franklin S. Harris has received an invitation to speak at the University of Utah on December first. He has been asked to speak on "Conditions in Europe" and on "Russia."

The Sunday evening radio address by President Harris was resumed November 22, after an interruption of three weeks by the death of President Hoover's Unemployment Fund committee.

VIRGINIA EKINS FATHER DIES OF HEART TROUBLE

Friends of Miss Virginia Ekins, a Freshman student at the University, will regret to learn of the death of her father, Mr. J. Ernest Ekins, Saturday afternoon.

Mr. Ekins died suddenly from a heart attack. He appeared to be in good health prior to his death.

STUDENT QUANTIFIED FOR CASE OF SMALLPOX

A student of this institution has smallpox, according to Miss Rhoda Johnson, college nurse. All vaccinated students that have not been exposed are requested by the health officers to go to no immediately. There have been a twenty-five cent fee.

The student has heard this warning, there used to be no further spread of the disease, she stated. Vaccination will prevent any appearance of this dreaded disease in the form of an epidemic.

Young U. Band Plans Concert In Utah Stake Tabernacle

Mrs. Aline Peterson will be the organist for the band concert which will be held at the Utah Stake Tabernacle, December 10, at 8:00 P. M.

The program will consist of some of the best classical numbers and a few brief catchy character numbers such as "Professor Robert Sater, head director. A special feature of the evening will be the playing of Handel's "Largo," by the band, as directed by Keeler at the pipe organ.

There will also be a woodwind quartet consisting of four clarinets and one bassoon.

Professor Sater states that all in all the program is a rare opportunity for students as well as music loving laymen. The program is a selection of music arranged for band.

The purpose of this concert is to delay the purchasing season and more music, which is a necessity because the band this year is the largest that it has ever been.

Kittens Anger Cops In Trying To Boost Basketball Series

John Law vented his wrath on a quartet of Frosh gridders yesterday. They were applying "cat's paw" coups" windshield stickers, with the winter's basketball schedule on the reverse to money raising parties downtown streets.

"These rascals Kittens didn't guess that they were violating any statute by not consulting the car owners. Consequently they were taken aback when the harsh tones of the Law fell upon their ears."

The stickers are now being distributed by Vic Tauer, assistant coach, to ornament their cars and the cars of their friends with the label, and thus boost the Y hoop team.

CARROLL TELLS OF FRESHENING FROSH ENGLISH

"Freshening Freshman English," is the subject of an address given by Mrs. Elsie C. Carroll, instructor in English at the Y. U., in the November number of "The English Journal." The Journal is for a group of English teachers in high schools and colleges, and is published monthly at the University of Chicago.

Mrs. Carroll is introduced in the "Work Week" of each month with the following: "Elsie C. Carroll, M. A., Brigham Young university is instructor in English and literature at the Brigham Young University. She is married on graduate work in English at the University of Chicago, and Stanford, and served as teacher of English and Dean of girls on the high school level."

Successful Experiment

The article tells of the results of a statistical experiment carried out by Mrs. Carroll's three sections of English at the university. The experiment was conducted with the general idea of "freshening" to freshen English course so that it would prove a desirable subject to students, not to teachers.

The experiment included "conversation classes" once each week to improve the student's conversation, and to enable him to become acquainted with the group; and a composition contest in which the students were divided into small groups each preparing a magazine containing some of the best work of each student. These parts of this English program, the year were concluded with a dinner at one of the hotels.

In concluding the article, "The enthusiasm of the students and the concrete results of our efforts to 'freshen' English are a pleasant proof that the methods had been worth while."

Y. H. S. ACTORS PROGRESS WITH "NATHAN HALE"

The cast of the B. Y. high school play, "Nathan Hale," has been making rapid progress. They are now rehearsing the play for the last few weeks and the play promises to be one of the most successful of the season yet produced.

The play, which will be presented December 11, in College hall will provide the audience with a wealth of historical facts, according to critics.

CREST PARAMOUNT GIVE SHOWS FOR UNEMPLOYED

Tonight at midnight, the Paramount picture house is cooperating with the civic clubs of Provo in sponsoring benefit shows. All the money taken in for the benefit of the unemployed is to be given to the city unemployed.

Sophomores Ad Large Sum to Fund Despute Handicap of Slump.

By conducting a vigorous sales campaign and rousing costs to the hilt, the committee in charge of the Sophomore Loan Fund had succeeded in enriching the fund by at least one hundred thirty dollars. This sum is five dollars more than the past proceeds of last year's fund. In view of the present financial condition this is generally regarded as a surprising feat.

Not all the salesmen have checked with the officers yet. There is a possibility that the total will be larger.

Although we did not sell as many tickets as were sold last year, many of the salesmen, such as Earl Cottam, chairman of the Sophomore committee, "the right sort of money" basis on which the ball was planned is recognized for the larger net profit.

The salesmen placed in the Ladies' group for the dance had a Thanksgiving and Harvest Dinner. They were made under the supervision of Professor Eastmond and Ralph Jensen.

Russian Singer Wins Applause

Combining brilliant singing with a charming stage presence, Mr. Isador M. Belarsky, famous Russian baritone, thrilled a capacity crowd at his concert, given Monday evening, November 22. The event, which took place in College hall, was under the direction of the Y. U. orchestra.

Two numbers which were notably pleasing were "My Boy" and "The Promise," composed by Mr. Belarsky's accompanist, Professor Wm. F. Hanson. The latter number was written especially for Mr. Belarsky.

Two encores were requested by the audience at the close of the program, and Mr. Belarsky complied, singing "The Flag Without a Star" and "The Song of the Yelga Boatmen."

Mr. Belarsky accompanied to sing over radio station KSL in Salt Lake City, and to give a concert at 10:00 o'clock. He will sing in the Tabernacle, accompanied by the Tabernacle orchestra.

COWBOY TENOR VISITS Y

Bob Blacker, sometimes known as the "Cowboy Tenor," visited the campus Monday afternoon. Bob, who is a former Y student, has just returned from a concert trip through the southwest. He plans to tour the country.

Always A New Frontier

Materially, the Pilgrim did not lack anything. But there might be realms than Magellan's ships glimpsed. In the mind and spirit are vast, unexplored regions that reach to the ends of the universe. We have only trodden the margins of the known world. These empires hold incalculable riches and powers.

Among dangers, Fevers and savage tribes of the tropics, ice, and the perils of the sea, are dangers compared to the evils that reach to the ends of the universe. We have only trodden the margins of the known world. These empires hold incalculable riches and powers.

There will always be new horizons with primitive wildness to be explored, long as man keeps climbing. There will never cease to be a need for the Pilgrim, and those with his fighting heart and his thirsty soul.

Hudson Wins Grant Contest For Orators

Successful Speaker Is Given Hard Struggle By Myrtle Bigelow.

Miss Rosemary Hudson was the successful contestant in the annual Heber J. Grant oratorical contest held last Friday. Her subject was: "We Stand for Physical, Mental, and Spiritual Health Through Observance of the Word of Wisdom."

Miss Hudson began her oration with a personal experience of President Grant's that illustrated the benefits of the Word of Wisdom. She also brought in, some of the facts about scholastic and alcoholic drinks that were illustrated at the annual June Conference. Health development through the Word of Wisdom is life and in order to be adequately prepared one should observe everything that will give health. She ended her oration by quoting the Word of Wisdom as revealed to the Prophet Joseph Smith.

Myrtle Bigelow was the other contestant. Her subject was: "We Stand for Physical, Mental, and Spiritual Health Through Observance of the Word of Wisdom."

The next oratorical contest, which will be held early in December, is one sponsored by the Irvine family. A medal will be awarded the winner of the best oration.

PACKARD PRESENTS VOCALISTS IN RECITAL

Twelve vocal students of Mrs. Packard's class, under the direction of Mrs. Packard, presented a recital in a recent Monday evening, November 22. The following participated: Mrs. Packard, Vera Beck, Clara Hamilton, Mayla Rogers, Elsie Johnson, Louise Rogers, Leah Nelson, Jennie Dalton, River Smith, Helen Fox, Donald Stevens, Eugene Larson, and Owen Smith.

The recital was the first of a series of studio programs, others of which are scheduled to follow at monthly intervals.

CONCERT CHORUS SINGS FOR MISSIONARY FUND

The university concert chorus, under the direction of Professor Frank Hansen, will be presented in the program to be given in the Pioneer ward chapel, Wednesday evening, December 2, at 8:00 o'clock. The chorus will be followed by a dancing party, will be presented for the purpose of increasing the Pioneer ward mission fund.

In addition to the chorus members, the Scandinavian choir and members of the Provo high school will furnish selections.

Students, Faculty Unite in Praising B. Y. U. Scrapbook

"What is your opinion of the Scrapbook?" was asked the following. Their answers, in every case, testify to the fact that the Brigham Young University Scrapbook is winning high favor in all quarters.

—Coach Romney

"I never knew a Scrapbook but have always felt with great regret that it is foolish not to. I believe that as far as keeping an interesting and revealing record of the year, no better vehicle could be devised than the idea selected."

—Monta Wynn, A. S. B. Y. U. Vice-President

"It is probable that after the students have perused the Scrapbook for one year, they will prefer it to the Banquet."

"The Scrapbook will be a medium wherein all students can express their artistic ability. Because of its saving the possibility of the representation of individual creation, the students of the art department will lend their efforts and ability to the production of beautiful hand-made art work that will give a fine embellishment to the book."

—Professor Eastmond

"I think it's the most original idea that has been conceived on the campus for a long while. It will preserve a permanent record of what is usually abandoned after the passing of the year. It will also provide a wide field for individual ingenuity."

—Farrell Collard, A. S. B. Y. U. President

Scrapbooks Nearly Ready

The printing on the Scrapbook is practically finished, insuring delivery by the end of the month. The Advance sales also assure well as the advance, as relatively few books are ordered.

"May we urge all the students to get their clippings, snap-shots, programs and other souvenirs of the Autumn quarter ready to be placed in the book when it is issued," Howard Cottam said. Clyde Sandgren replied.

The publishers also wish to remind the students that the Scrapbook, the Y News are available. Any student who missed an article in a past issue of the paper can have his own copy.

Grid Athletes Elect Shields To Captaincy

Football Leader For 1932 Has Played Two Varsity Championships

Lloyd "Coy" Shields, 20-year old Junior from Tooele, was elected captain of the 1932 Brigham Young University varsity football team at a meeting of the twenty members in the athletic department offices, Monday afternoon.

Shields was a member of the championship Tooele high school team a few years ago, and has played regularly on the Cougar varsity team for the last two seasons. The blond young Tooele stalwart is studying for a major in Physical Education, and he works his way through school by part-time work in a filling station.

Shields was the second guard to be chosen captain of Cougar football teams in the last three seasons. Andy Dams, a guard, held this position before Keith Wagnersdahl was chosen for the 1931 season.

Adam Bennion Speaks Today

Adam S. Bennion, former church commissioner of education, was the speaker at the annual meeting of the assembly held today in College Hall. Mr. Bennion resigned some years ago and is now a member of the Utah Power and Light Inc. in Salt Lake City.

Mr. Bennion has been described by President Franklin S. Harris as "the best speaker in Utah," and his appearance at the assembly today has been warmly appreciated by this statement.

MAURICE JONES PRINTS SERIES OF ARTICLES

"His education doesn't cost — it pays." This is the title in a case of Maurice Jones, who is putting together through school by means of his journalistic work. Lately he has had three articles published by the "Y" News, and a magazine on engineering, which is published monthly in Los Angeles.

His articles all have been on local projects here in Provo, the first being on "Street Fencing," the second about the reservoir at the mouth of Rock canyon, and his last one, "How Provo Met an Acute Water Shortage."

Mr. Jones, who has written for the Provo Herald for two years, has published his first article in the "Y" News, and at present is local correspondent for the Salt Lake Telegram, Pasadena and the International at News Service.

Woman's Career and Home Conflict in Senior Drama

A most sensitively dramatic play will be ready for presentation in College hall following the return of students from Thanksgiving vacation Friday evening, November 26. The class chaperon present "Hill And Sea" The cast has been working overtime to have the play in readiness for scheduled time. Seven seniors are cast in the play, seven men and seven women, and each given to his part distinctive touch.

"Hill And Sea" is a drama in three acts dealing with the problems of married women working. The plot involves the tragic love story of a family of Tom Herford. Mr. Herford is a sculptor, as is his wife, Ann Herford. The tragedy arises from the two girls and their own nature.

Tom Herford's sister, Daisy, a young artist, Keith McKenzie, and a youthful magazine editor, Ruth Crook, add to the complications of the plot. Daisy and Ruth represent opposite types of women on the question of the rights of women to strive, attention between office and home.

Banquet Honors New Chapter

A beautiful arranged banquet was held at Hotel Roberts by the grand council members of Phi Delta Psi, national honorary physical education fraternity, in honor of the members of the Xi chapter which has just been installed at this institution.

Per Kimball Blochman, national representative, acted, as mistress of ceremonies. John Coleman, chapter president, read telegrams of congratulation from other chapters and introduced an original song, "Girls of Phi Delta Psi." Other toasts were given by Miss Wilmie Jeppson, who spoke stanzas of the education department, Bernice Moss, a physical education instructor at the University of Utah, who spoke in behalf of the Xi chapter. Carol Bruhn represented the sister chapter of the university, the Eta Blochman, then lead them in singing several Phi Delta Psi songs and the guests.

The banquet table was artistically decorated with cut tall flowers and greenery. The correct dress of gowns and violets were presented to the guests. The newly initiated members were: Ruth L. Johnson, Gwen Nelson, Ida Scott, Dorothy Hoover, Alice Coleman, Carmel Ballif, Clara Wells, Louise Stafford, Mrs. Melling and Miss Jeppson.

VAL NORMAN HAVE PARTY IN ITALIAN STYLE AT MANUVA

A street scene in Italy was the theme employed at the Val Nurn party Saturday evening at the Manuva dance amusement hall. The hall was cleverly decorated with reminiscences of Italian life. As a feature of the evening, a native girl of Italy entertained with several Italian songs, and Carol Reiff gave an Italian dance.

The patrons and patronesses of the party were Dr. and Mrs. P. A. Christensen, Professor and Mrs. Alonzo Morley and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. Hart. The committee in charge of the novel affair consisted of Gene Clark, May Saxon, Norma Hansen, and Lucile Skinner.

DELTA PSI ENTERTAIN AT DANCING PARTY IN THIRD WARD

The members of the Delta Psi and their partners spent an enjoyable evening Saturday, when they were entertained at a dancing party in the Third Ward amusement hall.

Twenty refreshments were served to the attending members and their partners. Elmer Jacobsen, who is head of the social committee, planned the affair.

ARIZONANS HOLD THEIR FIRST FUNCTION

The opening party of the Arizona Club was held last Saturday evening at the home of Floyd Miller. A large number of students from Arizona, New Mexico, Texas and Old Mexico were entertained with an interesting program of musical numbers, dramatic readings and games.

The crowd proved to be a congenial one. The party was a huge success, and it was found that together a group with common interests, candy and apples were served as refreshments.

The party was sponsored by the officers who were elected at a dinner held in the "Y" cafeteria about three weeks previous. The officers of the Arizona Club are: Donald Stewart, president; Leona Gibson, vice-president; Letta Pierce, secretary; Grand McBride, social manager; Rose Corbin, reporter; and Floyd Miller, athletic manager.

Y. H. S. PEP CLUB PLEDGES GIVE BANQUET

A delightful banquet was tendered the old pep club of the Y. H. S. "Pep Club" last Saturday night by the present pledges.

The guests included Billie Holmgren and Edna Snow, faculty advisers, and the following old members: Elma Hansen, Mrs. E. J. Swartz, Katherine Davis, Marjorie Smith, Dr. Ernest Morley, Mrs. Rose Corbin, Mrs. Statts, Mary Thornton, Maxine Hendon, Evelyn Anderson, Rose Agard, Beate Pryor, Mrs. Collier, Elizabeth Holbrook, and Emma Warkner. The hosts and hostess were: Letta Pierce and Orlene Speckard, both chapter officers.

NEW MATES MEET OLDER MEMBERS AT PARTY SATURDAY

The members of the Y. H. S. Mates club were entertained Saturday evening at the home of Ernest Murdoch. The primary purpose of the affair was to acquaint the new members with the old ones. Herd Harrison, faculty adviser, acted as the special guest. Delicious refreshments were served to the members present.

FIRST WARD HALL IS SCENE OF FIDDLER DANCE

The Fiddlers entertained at a dancing party in the First Ward amusement hall Saturday evening. Receiving the guests as they entered were Louise Eastfield, Morris Clegre, Leslie Collins, Gordon Bruhn, Helen Jacobsen, Mark Robison. During the intermission Clara Reiff acted with a vocal solo and Helen Boyer and Alton Anderson gave a tap dance. Mrs. Accord gave a dramatic reading.

Besides the members, fifty invited guests and alumni were present. Patrons and patronesses were: Dr. and Mrs. H. E. Elveth, Mrs. Elva Elveth, Mrs. and Mr. Keller Sauls.

NAUTILUS ULTIM DANCES AT KEELEY'S

One of the most enjoyable social events of the week was the informal evening party given by the Nautilus at Keeley's Saturday evening. Dancing was enjoyed after which supper was served. The supper table was arranged in the shape of a nautilus. The style, Gladys Black and O. J. Lloyd were the faculty members present. Vera Merrill, president of the organization, had charge of the arrangement.

Miss Wilmie Elveth entertained at an attractive arranged dinner party Wednesday, the honored guest of the evening being Mrs. Audrey Watson Brown. Mrs. Brown is a graduate of the department of home economics and a clerk in the Commercial Club. Phi Omicron honorary home economics society.

Besides the record of honor the following were present: Miss Elsie Warnick, Miss Rita Scorp, Miss Margaret Swanson, Miss Edna Snow, Mrs. Hilda Knudsen, Miss Tuckfield, and Miss Elizabeth Cannon.

Glen S. Potter spoke to members of Theta Alpha Psi, at a luncheon held in the Y cafeteria Thursday. The subject of his talk was Indian dances and taking in the Indian fair.

The matter of eligibility of new members was discussed by the club.

RO. ED. STUDIES IN WALES

Mr. E. M. Rowe, assistant professor of English, who is on leave, is studying in Wales at Cardiff, Wales. He has already studied in Germany and Ireland.

Colleges Meet Separately

ARTS AND SCIENCES

In the separate meeting of the College of Education, presided at by the College hall the following program was given under the direction of Dean Leslie Merrill, sang "Angels' Serenade" before prayer and "Two Roads" afterward.

Professor R. F. Cummings gave a lecture on his travels and experiences in Europe, reviewing briefly the type of individuals he met while there.

COLLEGE OF EDUCATION

Dr. Amos N. Merrill, dean of the College of Education, presided at the college's separate meeting Wednesday, November 18, in Room D. The meeting commenced with the audience singing "America the Beautiful" led by Professor William F. Hanson. A vocal solo, "I Love a Little Country," by Elmo Coffman, accompanied by Clara Woodhouse, completed the musical entertainment.

A review of the lives of three of America's foremost educators followed. "John Dewey" was the subject of Mrs. Ida Snodgrass Dunsberry, "Nelson MacVicar" by Mrs. May Olthoff, and "Horace Mann" by Guy C. Wilson.

COLLEGE OF COMMERCE

Professor Elmer Miller spoke to the Commerce students last Wednesday in the separate college assembly held in the Master Memorial building. He said that instead of a person being cut out for one certain line of work and nothing else he has the potential fitness for almost any line which he may choose to enter; the main point being that the student is not in finding some work to enter for him and then convincing him that he goes and going into that work all that is in him.

He also stressed the importance of studying the many vocations thoroughly before passing judgment on any one of them. At the beginning of the program the Ladies' quartette composed of Letta Hanson, Irene Starr, Carmel Bringham, and Hannah Reynolds sang two selections. They were applauded.

APPLIED SCIENCE

M. W. Poston, professor of psychology, presided at the Applied Science meeting of the college of applied science last Wednesday, his subject being "The Psychology of Thinking." He called attention to the superiority of the idealistic method of solving a problem compared with the trial and error method. Dean Lowry Nelson presided at the meeting.

FINE ARTS

The Fine Arts college program was divided into two parts last Wednesday, the first part consisting of a talk by Professor T. Earl Pardee whose subject was "Voice science as a measurement of one quality pitch," dealing with the phase of "Effect of emotion on voice and especially on pitch." This talk was based on the research study done by Professor Pardee, preliminary to establishing the vocal laboratory in the physical, phonetic and language courses.

The string ensemble, Leroy J. Robertson, John H. Eastwood, and Gene Baggett, furnished the music for the program.

Professor E. H. Eastwood presided at the meeting.

A committee of the Fine Arts faculty, Dr. H. Eastwood, chairman, Leroy J. Robertson and Alonzo Morley, were appointed to award the prizes of an all-student creative program to be given later under the auspices of the A. S. S.

JANES EXPLAINS CAUSES OF OPTIC PHENOMENA

"Phantom of the Air" was the subject of the lecture given by Miss Jane Janes Friday before the Physics club. The optic phenomena often seen but little understood are: halos, rainbows, halos, sunsets, and the aurora.

Rainbows are caused by a refraction of light as it passes through the water droplets in the atmosphere. The light bends, gives the different colors, explained the lecturer. He showed the natural colors of the rainbow and gave some of the myths and legends common to it. Rainbows are common to the rainbow. The Physics club will be invited to continue these lectures at 3:30 in the Physics lab as this was a convenient time and lectures were held in the Physical. They will meet every other Friday.

PHYSICIANS FIND DEFECTS IN GIRLS EXAMINED

BY VIRGINIA BOWLES

None of the one hundred and eighty-eight new girls at the B. Y. U. who were examined by the physical examiners, the medical staff of the institution shortly after school commenced had a physical defect to be corrected, according to the recently completed examination.

The report reveals that thirty-two girls were to be kept under no physical defect. The contrast of no girls with a perfect record. It was found that three girls had heart lesions; twenty-three girls had no heart lesions; fifty-seven, ten pounds or more underweight; Miss Jeppson, commenting on this fact, stated that those of the girls who were dieting were "dieting and dying."

The ear conditions revealed the following: Thirty-eight girls were having trouble with their right ear, and twenty-one with their left ear. Seventeen were found to have eye trouble.

Many Nasal Troubles
Nose troubles include: Always, fourteen; Tuberculosis, twenty-four; Septum, fifty-nine; Sinus, thirty-two; and Sinus, two. Sinus troubles were listed under the following: Acute, twenty-two; Scabs, two; Lymph Nodes, eighty-four; tonsils, fifty-two; thyroid, fifty-three; but chest, thirty-one; other conditions, none.

A total of ninety-four girls had posture troubles which was classified as follows: Stooped, twenty-three; kyphosis, eighteen; scoliosis, twenty-eight; lordosis, twenty-five.

The number of knocked-knees reached the total of seventy-four, and bow-legs, seven.

STUDENTS FIND WORK OF PRODUCING MOVIE FASCINATING SPORT

"It was just stacks of money to different from work on ordinary plays. The scenes, instead of being filmed in direct sequence, are filmed at any moment they are convenient. Therefore a scene at the beginning of the play and one at the end may be filmed right after each other." This was said Miss Phyllis Miller, B. Y. U. student, and heroine of "Raining With," the movie recently produced. Hero and actress played by "talent." She went on to say that it was quite unusual in that none of the characters knew what the plot was, until they saw the show.

Rock R. Felber, better known as Boyd Nelson, hero of the play, reported that it was a lot of fun. He said "I seemed to be working around as a millionaire, if it was only for a few days, telling Speed Little, co-owner of the premiere station, to clean up the place, and most of all to be driving my big Hudson' around."

At hints of the "secret of his past" unveiled and drawn. "This movie gave me a good chance to show what experience can do. I didn't think I'd ever get to make it. I've known, they finished with two close-ups of me kissing the heroine."

The plot was centered around the theft of a diamond necklace (whether it was authentic or not, we can't get the answer to the members to say) given by Phil Miller by her mother, played by Mrs. William K. Knight. The cruel villain, Horace Jones and his Chander, succeeded in stealing the necklace. The villain, Horace Jones, hero and his friend, Farrell Collett, in pursuit. They were finally captured in the end and the villain was put in his heroine and all ended well.

Men Outnumber Women At Y, Figures Reveal

According to figures released by Register John E. Hayes, the College of Arts and Sciences again has the highest number of students, 362, girls with 384. Of the number 362 are men.

The College of Commerce with a total of 262 ranks second. It has 200 men enrolled. Registration in the other college is followed by the College of Arts and Sciences with 191 women; Graduate school with 121 women; Applied science with 128 women; and the College of Arts with 112 women. Due to confusion in registration some students are enrolled in the College of Applied Science who should be in the Fine Arts.

Total registration up to October 24 was 1179. Men students numbered 641 and women 538. The figures state that thus far this year enrollment is slightly greater than has been recorded in previous years.
